

representation[ˌreprɪzənˈteɪʃ(ə)n] n

1. 1) изображение, образ
an allegoric representation - аллегорическое изображение
a representation of the triumphal arch - изображение триумфальной арки representations in marble or bronze - скульптурные портреты в мраморе или бронзе
- 2) изображение (в каком-л. свете) to make false representations to smb. - изображать кому-л. в ложном свете (что-л.) this is a fair representation of their point of view - это правильное изложение их точки зрения through his favourable representations - благодаря его положительным отзывам
- 3) филос. понятие, представление; (мысленный) образ
2. представление, показ на сцене
an unusual representation of Hamlet - нешаблонная /оригинальная/ трактовка Гамлета
3. 1) утверждение, заявление to consent to do smth. on smb.'s representations - согласиться на что-л. по чьему-л. настоянию
- 2) протест
to make representations to smb. - заявить кому-л. протест
- 3) дил. представление
to make representations - делать представления
4. представительство
permanent representation - дил. постоянное представительство proportional representation - пропорциональное представительство right of representation - юр. право представления to inherit by right of representation - юр. наследовать по праву представления
5. парл. делегация; группа депутатов от какого-л. избирательного округа
6. = representationism 2
7. мат., физ. представление, запись, выражение; формализм internal representation - вчт. представление данных в памяти ЭВМ

representation

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

rep-re-sen-ta-tion [representation representations] BrE [ˌreprɪzənˈteɪʃn]NAmE [ˌreprɪzənˈteɪʃn] noun

1. uncountable, countable the act of presenting sb/sth in a particular way; something that shows or describes sth

Syn: ↑portrayal

- the negative representation of single mothers in the media
- The snake swallowing its tail is a representation of infinity.

2. uncountable the fact of having representatives who will speak or vote for you or on your behalf

- The green movement lacks effective representation in Parliament.
- The accused was not allowed legal representation.

see also ↑proportional representation

3. representations plural (formal, especially BrE) formal statements made to sb in authority, especially in order to make your opinions known or to protest

- We have made representations to the prime minister, but without success.

Word Origin:

late Middle English (in the sense 'image, likeness'): from Old French representation or Latin repraesentatio(n), from repraesentare 'bring before, exhibit', from re- (expressing intensive force) + praesentare 'to present'.

Example Bank:

- He claims that their electoral system ensures fair representation of all parties.
- Textile workers wanted collective representation.
- The film offers a realistic representation of life in rural Spain.
- The party has increased its representation in Parliament.
- The task force had broad representation with members drawn from different departments.
- There are many ways of generating a two-dimensional representation of an object.
- They had a strong representation in government
- They may make representation to government on matters affecting their organization.
- Whether guilty or innocent, we are still entitled to legal representation.
- a book showing graphic representations of the periodic table
- a realistic cinematic representation of the Depression
- artistic representations of the parent/child relationship
- contemporary media representations of youth
- direct representation in Parliament
- representation by a lawyer
- representation for employees
- representation from all parties
- shareholder representation on the boards of directors
- the written representation of a spoken text
- workers that seek union representation

representation

rep [reˈsen.tə.tʃən S3 W2 /,reprɪzenˈteɪʃən/ BrE " AmE " noun

[Word Family: noun: ↑representation, ↑representative; adjective: ↑representative ≠ ↑unrepresentative, ↑representational; verb: ↑represent]

1. [uncountable] when you have someone to speak, vote, or make decisions for you:
 - Minority groups need more effective parliamentary representation.
 - There has been a decline in union representation in the auto industry. ⇒ ↑proportional representation
2. [countable] a painting, sign, description etc that shows something
 - representation of
 - The clock in the painting is a symbolic representation of the passage of time.
3. [uncountable] the act of representing someone or something
 - representation of
 - She received praise for her effective representation of Garcia during the trial.
4. [countable usually plural] formal especially British English a formal complaint or statement
 - representation about
 - A group of students made representations to the college about the poor standard of the accommodation.
5. make false representations law to describe or explain something in a way that you know is not true

representation

Frequency Pack

12500 1863^{MCW}15000 461^{COCA}RANGE: 1k REPRESENT 106114

represent 19230

representative 14878

representatives 11942

rep 1972

reps 1749

represented 17602

underrepresented 617

unrepresented 89

underrepresent 19

representing 8943

represents 15463

representation 9336

representations 3118

representational 830

unrepresentative 149

representativeness 177

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

4562 4292⁹³⁰³ *nn1*30 135195³³ nnu