taste

1. вкус (чувство)

keen taste, keen sense of taste - обострённая способность чувствовать вкус (пищи)

out of taste - неспособный различить вкус

nice to the taste - приятный на вкус

to add pepper [salt, sugar] to taste - добавить перца [соли, сахар] по вкусу

2. вкус (свойство пищи)

sweet [bitter] taste - сладкий [горький] вкус

chocolate taste - вкус шоколада

to have a nice taste - быть приятным на вкус

to have no taste - быть безвкусным to leave a bad /nasty/ taste in the mouth - a) оставить дурной вкус во рту; б) оставить неприятное впечатление вызвать отвращение to distinguish types of oranges by their taste - различать апельсины по вкусу

3. 1) вкус, понимание

true [false] taste - безошибочный /хороший/ [дурной] вкус

а man of taste - человек со вкусом

an education in taste - воспитание вкуса

in (good) taste, with taste - со вкусом in bad /in poor/ taste - безвкусно [ср. тж. 2)] to dress in good [in bad] taste - одеваться со вкусом [безвкусно]

to have a fine taste in pictures [in poetry] - тонко разбираться в живописи [в поэзии]

to smb.'s taste - в чьём-л. вкусе not at all to my taste - совсем не в моём вкусе

he found it to his taste - это пришлось ему по вкусу

this is a matter of taste - это дело вкуса

tastes differ, there is no accounting for tastes, everyone to his taste - о вкусах не спорят; у каждого свой вкус

2) такт

in bad taste - бестактно, неуместно [ср. тж. 1)]

the remark was in bad /out of/ taste - замечание было неуместным /бестактным/

it would be in bad taste to refuse - отказываться неудобно, отказ был бы бестактностью

4. склонность; влечение, пристрастие to have a taste for smth. - иметь склонность к чему-л.

to acquire /to develop/ a taste for smth. - пристраститьсяк чему-л.

to follow one's natural tastes - удовлетворять свои природные склонности; следовать своим естественным влечениям suit your own taste - делай, как тебе хочется

5. стиль, манера

in the Moorish taste - в мавританском стиле

6. проба; глоточек, кусочек

to have just a taste of smth. - попробовать что-л to have a taste of claret - (только) пригубить бордо won't you have a taste of this cake? - попробуйте /отведайте/ этого пирога

7. 1) немного, чуточка; примесь, привкус not a taste of food in the house - в доме ни крошки

there was a taste of irritation [of sadness] in his remark - в его замечании сквозило раздражение [слышалась грусть]

2) представление; образчик

to get a taste of smb.'s skill [of smb.'s manners] - получить представление о чьём-л. мастерстве [о чьих-л. манерах] give him a taste of the whip - дай ему отведать кнута

he has already had a taste of prison - он уже отведал тюрьмы, он уже знает, что такое тюрьма; он уже побывал за решёткой

8. кухня, набор национальных блюд

the taste of France - французская кухня

9. уст. проба, опробование

2. [teist] v

1. 1) пробовать, отведать

won't you taste this jam? - отведайте/попробуйте/ этого варенья

2) дегустировать

to taste wines - дегустировать вина

2. 1) иметь вкус

- to taste sour [sweet] быть кислым [сладким] на вкус
- to taste of nothing at all быть совершенно безвкусным
- it tastes like gin [like port] по вкусу похоже на джин [на портвейн]

2) иметь привкус; отдавать (чем-л.)

to taste of garlic [of onions] - отдавать чесноком [луком]

3. 1) различать на вкус

to taste pepper/almond/ in the dressing - чувствовать перец /миндаль/ в приправе

2) чувствовать вкус

I have a bad cold and cannot taste - из-за насморка я не чувствую вкуса (пищи)

4. 1) есть, пить (особ. немного)

not to taste (a thing) - ничего не попробовать, ничего не съесть he hasn't tasted food for two days - два дня у него маковой росинки во рту не было the children barely tasted their breakfast - дети почти не прикоснулись к завтраку

2) уст. отведать, откушать

to taste strange dishes - отведать небывалых яств

- 5. вкушать, испытывать; получать представление, знакомиться
- to taste the joys of freedom вкусить счастье свободной жизни
- to taste power узнать вкус власти

6. (of)

1) арх. вкусить, познакомиться; испытать, познать на своём опыте

- to taste of fame вкусить славы
- to taste of danger подвергнуться опасности
- to taste of death посмотреть смерти в глаза

2) содержать в себе элемент (чего-л.); отдавать; \cong чувствоваться

a sharp word that tastes of envy - резкие слова, в которых чувствуется зависть /в которых слышна нотка зависти/

7. редк. придавать вкус

- 8. уст. иметь вкус, склонность
 - to taste blood испытать новое чувство; испытать острое наслаждение

taste

• I. taste [taste tastes tasted tasting] noun, verb BrE [teɪst] NAmE [teɪst] noun

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

FLAVOUR

- 1. countable, uncountable the particular quality that different foods and drinks have that allows you to recognize them when you put them in your mouth
- a salty/bitter/sweet, etc. taste
- I don't like the taste of olives.
- This dish has an unusual combination of tastes and textures.
- The soup has very little taste.

SENSE

- 2. uncountable the sense you have that allows you to recognize different foods and drinks when you put them in your mouth
 - · l'velost my sense of taste.

SMALL QUANTITY

- 3. countable, usually singular a small quantity of food or drink that you try in order to see what it is like
- Just have a taste of this cheese.
- Do you want a taste?

SHORT EXPERIENCE

4. singular a short experience of sth

- This was my first taste of live theatre.
- Although we didn't know it, this incident was a taste of things to come .

ABILITY TO CHOOSE WELL

5. uncountable a person's ability to choose things that people recognize as being of good quality or appropriate

- He has very good taste in music.
- They'vegot more money than taste.
- The room was furnished with taste.

WHAT YOU LIKE

- 6. countable, uncountable what a person likes or prefers
- ~ (for sth) That trip gave me a taste for foreign travel.
- ~ (in sth) She has very expensive tastes in clothes.
- The colour and style is a matter of personal taste .
- Modern art is not to everyone's taste .
- There are trips to suit all tastes.

more at there's no accounting for taste at faccount v, an acquired taste at facquire, a taste/dose of your own medicine at

[†]medicine

Word Origin:

Middle English (also in the sense 'touch'): from Old French tast (noun), taster (verb) 'touch, try, taste', perhaps based on a blend of Latin tangere 'to touch' and gustare 'to taste'.

Example Bank:

- Contemporary arbiters of taste dismissed his paintings as rubbish.
- · Don't have a cigarette now- you'll spoil the taste of your food!

- · Have a taste of this cake.
- He could feel the taste of blood in his mouth.
- · Her choice of outfit demonstrated her taste for the outrageous.
- · Her music appeals to popular taste.
- · Her work is executed with impeccable taste.
- · His tastes run to the exotic.
- · I had a strong coffee to take away the nasty taste of the food.
- · I'velost my taste for exotic trips.
- If fishing is not to your taste, there are many other leisure activities on offer.
- It all depends on where your tastes lie.
- · Lifestyles differ and tastes vary.
- Modern art is an acquired taste.
- Now he is retired he has time to indulge his tastes for writing and politics.
- · People with a taste for complex plots will enjoy this book.
- · She has terrible taste in clothing.
- · She savoured the taste of the champagne.
- That job gave me my first real taste of teaching.
- · That joke was in very poor taste.
- · The designer has exercised good taste in her choice of fabrics.
- The drink left a bitter taste in his mouth.
- The film was judged to offend against standards of public taste and decency.
- The house reflected his taste.
- The love scenes are all done in the best possible taste.
- The music was too modern for my taste.
- The new appraisal plan is only a taste of things to come.
- The remark showed a deplorable lack of taste.
- The room had been decorated with great taste.
- The soup had a very salty taste.
- The whole business left a bad taste in my mouth.
- They have a taste for adventure
- This was her first taste of success.
- What type of bicycle you should buy is very much a matter of personal taste.
- You need to use fresh herbs to get the authentic Italian taste.
- You obviously share her taste in reading.
- a man of advanced tastes
- · a range of hotels to suit all tastes and budgets
- · the changing tastes of consumers
- · young people's tastes in music
- · He has an unusual taste in music.
- · Modern art is not to everyone's taste.
- Salt stimulates the taste buds on the tongue.
- She has a real taste for adventure/designer clothes.
- She has a very expensive taste in clothes.
- The colour and style is a matter of personal taste.
- The soup doesn't have much taste.
- They'vegot more money than taste.

Idioms: in bad/poor/the worst possible taste = in good/the best possible taste = [†]leave a bad taste in the mouth verb (not used in the progressive tenses)

HAVE FLAVOUR

- 1. linking verb to have a particular flavour
 - + adj. It tastes sweet.
 - ~ of sth The ice tasted of mint.
 - ~ like sth This drink tastes like sherry.
- 2. -tasting (in adjectives) having a particular flavour
- foul-tasting medicine

RECOGNIZEFLAVOUR

- 3. transitive ~ sth (often used with can or could) to be able to recognize flavours in food and drink
- You can taste the garlic in this stew.
- I can't really taste anything with this cold.

TEST FLAVOUR

- 4. transitive ~ sth to test the flavour of sth by eating or drinking a small amount of it
 - Syn: [†]try
 - Taste it and see if you think there's enough salt in it.

EAT/DRINK

5. transitive ~ sth to eat or drink food or liquid

• I'venevertasted anything like it.

HAVE SHORT EXPERIENCE

- 6. transitive ~ sth to have a short experience of sth, especially sth that you want more of
- He had tasted freedom only to lose it again.
- Verb forms: verb forms

present simple
I / you / we /they	taste
	BrE /teist/
	NAmE /teist/
he / she /it	tastes
	BrE /teists/
	NAME /teists/
past simple, past participle	tasted
	BrE /teistid/
	NAmE /teistid/

Word Origin:

Middle English (also in the sense 'touch'): from Old French tast (noun), taster (verb) 'touch, try, taste', perhaps based on a blend of Latin tangere 'to touch' and gustare 'to taste'.

Example Bank:

- The fish tasted faintly of garlic.
- The fruit tasted rather like mango.
- The water tasted strongly of chemicals.
- a cake which tasted of almonds
- I haven'ttasted meat since I started the journey.
- I'venevertasted anything like it.
- Taste it and see if you think there's enough salt in it.
- Would you like to taste the wine?

• II. to 'taste idiom

in the quantity that is needed to make sth taste the way you prefer

- Add salt and pepper to taste.
 - Main entry: [†]taste idiom

taste

I. taste¹ S2 W2 /teɪst/ BrE * AmE * noun

[Word Family: noun: †taste, †distaste, †tastefulness, †taster, †tasting; adjective: †tasteful ≠ †tasteless, †distasteful, †tasty; adverb †tastefully, †distastefully; verb †taste]

- 1. FOOD
- a) [uncountable and countable] the feeling that is produced by a particular food or drink when you put it in your mouth SYN flavour: The medicine had a slightly bitter taste.

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

taste of

- I don't really like the taste of meat any more.
- \boldsymbol{b} [uncountable] the sense by which you know one food from another:
 - Some birds have a highly developed sense of taste.
- c) have a taste (of something) if you have a taste of some food or drink, you put a small amount in your mouth to try it: You must have a taste of the fruitcake.
- 2. WHAT YOU LIKE [uncountable and countable] the kind of things that someone likes taste in

He asked about my taste in music.

taste for

- ^{*} While she was in France she developed a taste for fine wines.
- 3. JUDGMENT [uncountable] someone's judgment when they choose clothes, decorations etc

have good/bad etc taste

She has such good taste.

taste in

- Some people have really bad taste in clothes.
- 4. WHAT IS ACCEPTABLE/NOT OFFENSIVE [uncountable] the quality of being acceptable and not offensive:
- All television companies accept the need to maintain standards of taste and decency.
- be in bad/poor etc taste (=likely to offend people)
 - She acknowledged her remark had been in bad taste.
- 5. EXPERIENCE [usually singular] a short experience of something that shows you what it is like taste of
 - Schoolchildren can get a taste of the countryside first-hand.

- It gave him his first taste of acting for the big screen.
- The autumn storms gave us a taste of what was to come (=showed what would happen later).
- 6. FEELING [singular] the feeling that you have after an experience, especially a bad experience:
 - The way he spoke to those children left a nasty taste in my mouth.
 - the bitter taste of failure
 - the sweet taste of victory

7. ... to taste if you add salt, spices etc to taste, you add as much as you think makes it taste right – used in instructions in cook books:

* Add salt to taste.

⇒ give somebody a taste of their own medicine at [†]medicine(4)

COLLOCATIONS (for Meaning 1)

adjectives

. . .

- delicious The taste was absolutely delicious. | a delicious creamy taste
- nasty/unpleasant Some tablets have a nasty taste.
- strange/odd/peculiar /funny The sweets had a rather peculiar taste.
- strong This cheese has quite a strong taste.
- mild The taste of the leaves is milder than the root.
- sweet The fruits have an excellent sweet taste.
- bitter The brandy would not have masked the bitter taste of the poison.
- sour The purpose of the lemon's sour taste may be to stop the fruit being eaten by animals.
- salty He was conscious of the salty taste of his own blood.
- spicy Add a little curry powder to give it a spicy taste.
- creamy/buttery/fruity/nutty etc (=tasting of cream, butter etc) The cookies had a very buttery taste.
- bland (=not strong or interesting) Some people find the taste of rice too bland.
- distinctive Hops give beer its distinctive bitter taste.

verbs

- have a sweet/strange etc taste The soup had a funny taste.
- give something a taste The spices gave the bread a rather interesting taste.

COMMON ERRORS

Do not say 'it is sweet taste' or 'it is nice taste'. Say it has a sweet taste or it has a nice taste.

COLLOCATIONS (for Meaning 2)

adjectives

- similar/the same We have similar musical tastes.
- same/similar/different Their tastes in movies were very different.
- expensive /sophisticated He was a man of expensive tastes (=he liked expensive things.)
- simple He was a man of simple tastes (=he liked simple things)
- eclectic (=liking a wide variety of different things) My tastes are very eclectic.
- musical/literary/artistic taste His musical tastes changed radically.
- your personal taste Which one you choose is a question of personal taste.
- public/popular taste The shop created a unique style of goods that appealed to the popular taste.
- an acquired taste (=something that people do not like at first) This kind of tea is an acquired taste, but very refreshing.
- consumer tastes Changes in consumer tastes result in the expansion of some industries and the contraction of others.

verbs

- have ... tastes Josh and I have the same tastes.
- have a taste for something (=like something) She certainly has a taste for adventure.

• get/develop a taste for something (also acquire a taste for something formal) (=to start to like something) At university she developed a taste for performing.

share a taste (=have the same taste as someone else) You obviously share her taste in literature.

• suit/satisfy/appeal to sb's tastes (=provide what someone likes) We have music to suit every taste. | The magazine caters for all tastes.

phrases

• be to sb's taste (=be something that someone likes) If her books are not to your taste, there are plenty of books by other writers.

• be too bright/modern etc for sb's taste The building was too modern for my taste.

• something is a matter of taste (=different people have different opinions about what is good or right) Which of the two methods you use is largely a matter of taste.

• there's no accounting for taste (=used humorously to say that you do not understand why someone likes something)

THESAURUS

describing the taste of something

- delicious having a very good taste: This cake is delicious! | a delicious meal
- disgusting/revolting having a very bad taste: The medicine tasted disgusting. | They had to eat revolting things, like fish eyes.
- sweet tasting full of sugar: The oranges were very sweet.

tasty especially spoken tasting good and with plenty of flavour: She cooked us a simple but tasty meal. | That was really tasty!
sour/tart having a taste that stings your tongue slightly, like lemon does – used especially when this is rather unpleasant: The apples were a little sour. | The wine has rather a tart taste, which not everyone will like.

• tangy having a taste that stings your tongue slightly, like lemon does, in a way that seems good: The dressing was nice and tangy.

• bitter having a strong taste which is not sweet and is sometimes rather unpleasant - used for example about black coffee, or chocolate without sugar: bitter chocolate | The medicine had rather a bitter taste. | Hops give beer its distinctive bitter taste.

- salty containing a lot of salt: Danish salami has a salty flavour.
- hot/spicy having a burning taste because it contains strong spices: I love hot curries. | a spicy tomato sauce
- piquant /'pi⊡kən/t formal a little spicy used especially by people who write about food. This word can sound rather
- pretentious in everyday conversation: cooked vegetables in a piquant sauce
- mild not having a strong or hot taste usually used about foods that can sometimes be spicy: a mild curry
- bland not having an interesting taste: I found the sauce rather bland.

II. taste² S2 BrE AmE verb

[Word Family: noun: [↑]taste, [↑]distaste, [↑]tastefulness, [↑]taster, [↑]tasting; adjective: [↑]tasteful ≠ [↑]tasteless, [↑]distasteful, [↑]tasty; adverb [↑]tastefully, [↑]distastefully; verb [↑]taste]

[Date: 1200-1300, Language: Old French; Origin: taster 'to touch, test, taste', from Vulgar Latin taxitare, from Latin taxare; \Rightarrow [†]tax²]

1. [linking verb] to have a particular kind of taste

- taste good/delicious/sweet/fresh etc
 - Mmm! This tastes good!
 - The food tasted better than it looked.

taste awful/disgusting etc

* The coffee tasted awful.

taste of something

- This yoghurt tastes of strawberries.
- It didn't taste much of ginger.

taste like something

- It tastes just like champagne to me.
 - What does pumpkin taste like (=how would you describe its taste)?
- sweet-tasting/bitter-tasting etc

a sweet-tasting soup

2. [transitive not in progressive] to experience or recognize the taste of food or drink:

- She could taste blood.
- Can you taste the difference?
- It was like nothing I'd evertasted before.
- 3. [transitive] to eat or drink a small amount of something to see what it is like:
 - It's always best to keep tasting the food while you're cooking it.
- 4. taste success/freedom /victory etc to have a short experience of something that you want more of:
 - There was a lot of hard work before we first tasted success.

COLLOCATIONS

adjectives

. . .

- taste good/nice/delicious/great The apples weren't very big but they tasted good.
- taste horrible/awful/disgusting/foul The tea tasted horrible.
- taste funny/odd/strange These fruit drinks taste a bit funny until you get used to them.
- taste sweet/bitter/sour/salty He handed me some black stuff which tasted bitter.

adverbs

• taste strongly of something The water tasted strongly of chlorine.

phrases

sweet-tasting/strong-tasting etc a sweet-tasting drink

taste

125002112^{MCW} 15000 1220 COCA RANGE: 2k TASTE 36633 taste 23114 tasted 2935 tastes 4527 tasting 2271 tasty 1929 tastier 129 tastiest 115 tasteful 500 tastefulness 12 tastefully 251 tasteless 482 tastelessness 24 tastelessly 7 taster 159 tasters 178 COCA 500k Unlemmatized 10245286914812 nn1

Freakuency Pack

5405⁶⁹⁹⁷ vvi 18043¹²⁸³ vv0 187330¹⁸ nnu 432386⁴ jj