

palace['pælɪs] n

1. дворец
2. 1) особняк
- 2) резиденция (короля, духовного лица)
3. роскошное здание (кафе, ресторан и т. п.)
4. (the palace) придворные

palace

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

pal·ace [palace palaces] BrE ['pæləs] ^u NAmE ['pæləs] ^u noun

1. countable the official home of a king, queen, president, etc
 - Buckingham Palace
 - the royal/presidential palace
2. (often the Palace) singular the people who live in a palace, especially the British royal family
 - The Palace last night refused to comment on the reports.
 - a Palace spokesman
3. countable any large impressive house
 - The Old Town has a whole collection of churches, palaces and mosques.
4. countable (old-fashioned) (sometimes used in the names of buildings) a large public building, such as a hotel or cinema/movie theater
 - the Strand Palace Hotel

Word Origin:

Middle English: from Old French paleis, from Latin Palatium, the name of the Palatine hill in Rome, where the house of the emperor was situated.

Thesaurus:palace noun C

- Protesters have overrun the presidential palace.

mansion • manor (house) • villa • |BrE stately home • • country house • |from French château •

a magnificent palace/mansion/country house/villa

an ancient/royal palace/mansion/manor

a medieval palace/manor/château

Example Bank:

- Even this small house was a veritable palace compared to his tent.
- She found it hard to adjust to palace life.
- The king was deposed by his son in a palace coup.
- The palace stands on the west bank of the river.
- Anti-government protesters have overrun the presidential palace.
- Buckingham Palace is the official London residence of the Queen.

palace

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

pal·ace W3 /'pæləs, 'pælɪs/ BrE ^u AmE ^u noun [countable]

[Date: 1200-1300; Language: Old French; Origin: palais, from Latin palatium, from Palatium the Palatine Hill in Rome where the ruler's palace was]

1. the official home of a person of very high rank, especially a king or queen – often used in names:

Buckingham Palace

2. the Palace especially British English the people who live in a palace – used in news reports:

" The Palace has announced that the Duke and Duchess are to separate.

3. a large beautifully decorated house:

" the splendid palaces of Florence

palace

Freakuency Pack

12500 2866^{MCW}

15000 3553^{COCA}

RANGE: 4k PALACE 6230

palace 5251

palaces 979

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

2402 6831⁵²²³ nn1

14 214349¹⁴ nnu

4 220606¹⁴ np1
