hostile Apresyan (En-Ru) 1. ['høstail] n

1) враг, противник

2) амер. ист. индеец из племени, враждебно относящегося к белым

2. ['høstail] a

1. неприятельский, вражеский; принадлежащий противнику

hostile army [aviation] - армия [авиация] противника

hostile camp - вражеский стан

hostile ground - вражеская территория

hostile sides - враждующие стороны

hostile disposition - воен. расположение противника

hostile operation - действия противника

2. враждебный; неприязненный, недружелюбный; враждебно относящийся (к чему-л.)

hostile act [actions] - враждебный акт [-ые действия]

hostile looks - недружелюбные взгляды hostile crowd - враждебно настроенная толпа

hostile reception - ледяной приём

hostile feelings - неприязненные чувства

hostile opinions - резко отрицательноеотношение; резкая критика to be hostile to smth. - враждебно /отрицательно относиться к чему-л.; принимать в штыки что-л.

to make a hostile demonstration against smb. - освистать кого-л.; встретить кого-л. в штыки

hostile

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

NAmE ['hasst] hos-tile [hostile hostiles] BrE ['hostail] * NAmE ['ha□sta]I

adjective

1. very unfriendly or aggressive and ready to argue or fight

- The speaker got a hostile reception from the audience.
- ~ to/towards sb/sth She was openly hostile towards her parents.
- 2. ~ (to sth) strongly rejecting sth

Syn: opposed to

- hostile to the idea of change
- The proposals have provoked a hostile response from opposition parties.
- 3. making it difficult for sth to happen or to be achieved
 - · hostile conditions for plants to grow in
- belonging to a military enemy
- hostile territory
- 5. (business) (of an offer to buy a company, etc.) not wanted by the company that is to be bought
- · a hostile takeover bid

Word Origin:

late 16th cent.: from French, or from Latin hostilis, from hostis 'stranger, enemy'.

Example Bank:

- · He was extremely hostile towards her.
- · Many people were openly hostile to the idea.
- The audience gave him a downright hostile reception.
- The experience has made him generally hostile to women.
- The press became uniformly hostile to the new administration.
- They were reluctant to take any step that might be regarded as hostile.
- politically hostile newspapers
- · Many of the employees were hostile to the idea of change.
- The speaker got a very hostile reception from the audience.

hostile

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

hostile /'høstaɪl $ 'ha□stl,'ha□sta∄lBrE ` AmE adjective

[Date: 1500-1600; Language: French; Origin: Latin hostilis, from hostis 'stranger, enemy]

- 1. angry and deliberately unfriendly towards someone, and ready to argue with them:
 - Southampton fans gave their former coach a hostile reception.
 - Carr wouldn't meet Feng's stare, which was openly hostile.
 - his hostile attitude

hostile to/towards

The boy feels hostile towards his father.

2. opposing a plan or idea very strongly

hostile to/towards

- Senator Lydon was hostile to our proposals.
- 3. belonging to an enemy:
 - hostile territory
- 4. used to describe conditions that are difficult to live in, or that make it difficult to achieve something hostile environment/climate/terrain etc

- a guide to survivingin even the most hostile terrain
- Sales increased last year despite the hostile economic environment.
- 5. hostile takeover/bid a situation in which a company tries to buy another company that does not want to be bought

THESAURUS

person/voice/behaviour

- unfriendly/not friendly behaving towards someone in a way that shows you are not interested in them or are not ready to talk to them or help them: The hotel staff were unfriendly and unhelpful. | an unfriendly tone of voice | They didn't seem very friendly to strangers. | She gave him an unfriendly glance.
- hostile very unfriendly, and ready to argue or fight: He was openly hostile towards me when I arrived. A hostile crowd gathered oustide the US embassy.
- cold behaving towards other people as if you do not like them or care about them: He gave her a cold stare. I a cold voice
- frosty unfriendly, especially because you are angry with someone: When she spoke, her tone was frosty. | He got a frosty reception from his wife when he finally returned home (=she was not very friendly towards him).
- aloof [not before noun] not wanting to talk to other people or spend time with them, especially because you think you are better than them: Some politicians are criticized for being too aloof.
- antagonistic unfriendly and always trying to start arguments with someone: Why are Kate and John so antagonistic towards each other?
- antisocial not interested in meeting other people or forming friendly relationships with them: Sorry if I'm being antisocial, but I need to get my work done. | He was an antisocial loner with no friends.

hostile Freakuency Pack

12500 2553 COCA

RANGE: 5k HOSTILE 11357
hostile 6502
hostility 3569
hostilities 1224
hostiles 62

COCA 500k Unlemmatized
4801 5755 6498 jj
4365114 nn1