obsession Apresyan (En-Ru)

[əb'se∫(ə)n] n

1. навязчивая идея; неотступная мысль

it became an obsession with him - это стало у него навязчивой идеей

2. одержимость; наваждение

he's got an obsession with sport, sport is an obsession with him - он одержим спортом

obsession

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

ob·ses·sion [obsession obsessions] BrE [əbˈse[n] * NAmE [əbˈse[n] * noun

- 1. uncountable the state in which a person's mind is completely filled with thoughts of one particular thing or person in a way that is not normal
 - Her fear of flying is bordering on obsession.
 - ~ with sb/sth The media's obsession with the young prince continues.
- 2. countable ~ (with sb) a person or thing that sb thinks about too much
 - · Fitness has become an obsession with him.

Word Origin:

early 16th cent. (in the sense 'siege'): from Latin obsessio(n-), from the verb obsidere, from ob- 'opposite' + sedere 'sit'.

Thesaurus:

obsession noun U, C (usually disapproving)

She has an unhealthy obsession with her diet.

preoccupation · · mania · · fixation · · complex · |informal hang-up · |medical neurosis ·

a/an obsession/preoccupation/fixation/complex/hang-up/neurosis about sb/sth

a/an obsession/preoccupation/mania/fixation for sb/sth

a/an obsession/preoccupation/fixation with sb/sth

develop a/an obsession/complex/neurosis

Example Bank:

- He thinks all women have an obsession with shoes.
- He was in the grip of an obsession and would not listen to reason.
- I don't understand television's current obsession with cookery programmes.
- · Her devotion to him bordered on obsession.
- She has an unhealthy obsession with her diet.
- The campaign has questioned the food industry's obsession for pristine packaging.
- The idea grew in his mind until it became something of an obsession.
- The media's obsession with the young prince continues.

obsession

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

ob session /əb'seʃən/ BrE * AmE * noun [uncountable and countable] an extreme unhealthy interest in something or worry about something, which stops you from thinking about anything else:

Gambling became an obsession, and he eventually lost everything.

obsession with

- an unhealthy obsession with being thin
- The current obsession with exam results is actually harming children's education.
- The game pachinko became a national obsession.
- He has an enthusiasm for art, to the point of obsession in my opinion.
- She looked after him with a devotion bordering on obsession.

—obsessional adjective

COLLOCATIONS

verbs

- become an obsession For Rosie, losing weight had become an obsession.
- have an obsession The poet seems to have an obsession with death.
- border on/upon obsession (=be almost as extreme as an obsession) Sometimes his tidiness bordered on obsession.

adjectives

- a national obsession (=an obsession that the whole country has) In Britain, the weather is a national obsession.
- an unhealthy obsession (=an obsession that is not normal) Our society seems to have an unhealthy obsession with staying young.
- a dangerous obsession Mark had a dangerous obsession with fast cars.
- a sexual obsession Sexual obsessions can take many forms.
- the modern obsession with something the modern obsession with celebrities' lives

phrases

- be something of an obsession (=be almost as strong as an obsession) The case became something of an obsession with him
- to the point of obsession (=used to say that something has stopped being a normal interest and become an extreme one) She was protective of her children, to the point of obsession.
- be in the grip of an obsession (=have extreme feelings of interest in something or someone) At 15 I met Heather and instantly fell into the grip of an obsession.

obsession

125004475McW

150002715COCA

RANGE: 4k OBSESS 10203

obsesses 273

obsesses 54

obsessing 253

obsessed 3389

obsession 3617

obsessions 545

obsessional 70

obsessionally 0

obsessive 1462

obsessiveness 56

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

obsessively 484

₂₉₆₆8914³⁶¹⁷ nn1

Freakuency Pack