spur
1. [sp3:] *n*1. 1) шпора
to put /to set/ spurs to one's horse - пришпоривать лошадь [cp. mж. 2)]
2) пришпоривание, «палка», понукание
to need the spur - нуждаться в понукании, быть медлительным to put /to set/ spurs to smb. - подгонять /поторапливаты кого-л. [cp. mж. 1)]

to him difficulties were only spurs to new efforts - трудности только подхлёстывали его 2. pl

1) ист. шпоры как символ рыцарского достоинства to win one's spurs - быть посвящённым в рыцари [см. тж. 2)]

he needs the spur - ему нужна палка, он работаетиз-под палки

2) признание, награда; слава; (доброе) имя to win one's spurs - завоевать признание; приобрести имя [см. тж. 1)]

to win one's spurs back again - восстановить своё доброе имя

our team hasn't won its spurs yet - наша команда ещё не проявила себя /не показала, на что она способна/ he won his academic spurs as a holder of a chair in a university - он получил признание своих научных заслуг на посту заведующего кафедрой в университете

3. стимул, побуждение

under the spur of poverty [of curiosity] - вынуждаемый бедностью [побуждаемый любопытством]

- 4. 1) отросток (на крыле или лапе у птиц; тж. spur shoot)
- 2) петушиная шпора
- 5. острый наконечник, шип, зуб (на альпинистской палке, обуви и т. п.)
- 6. металлический наконечник, надеваемый на шпору бойцового петуха
- 7. бот. шпорец; пенёк (веточки)
- 8. отрог (горы)
- 9. cmp.
- 1) подкос, контрфорс
- 2) буна
- 10. геол. ответвление(жилы)
- 11. ж.-д. тупик, ветка (mж. spur track)
- 12. спорынья (болезнь растений)
 - ⋄ on the spur of the moment /of the occasion/ а) мгновенно, тут же; б) экспромтом

to dish up the spurs - дать понять гостям, что пора уходить

to have got a spur in one's head - быть под мухой

2. [sp3:] V

- 1. пришпоривать
- 2. бить шпорами (о птице)
- 3. побуждать, подстрекать (часто spur on) to spur smb. to do smth. - побуждать /поощрять/ кого-л. сделать что-л.

to spur smb. on to some action - толкать кого-л. на какой-л. поступок; подстрекать кого-л. к какому-л. действию he was spurred (on) by poverty to commit a crime - на преступление его толкнула нужда spurred by anger - побуждаемый гневом

- 4. 1) приделывать шпоры, снабжать шпорами
- 2) надевать шпоры
- 5. мчаться во весь опор, спешить (тж. spur on)

we were spurring onward /forward all night - мы мчались вперёд всю ночь

6. ставить подпорку, подпирать

🗸 to spur a willing horse - подгонять кого-л. без всякой нужды; подгонять и без того добросовестного работника

spur

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

10UN

1 a chara pointed object that riders cometimes wear on the beels of

- 1. a sharp pointed object that riders sometimes wear on the heels of their boots and use to encourage their horse to go faster
 - He dug his spurs into the horse's sides.
- 2. usually singular ~ (to sth) a fact or an event that makes you want to do sth better or more quickly

Svn: †motivation

- · His speech was a powerful spur to action.
- A few encouraging words might provide just the spur she needs.
- 3. an area of high ground that sticks out from a mountain or hill
- 4. a road or a railway/railroad track that leads from the main road or line

Word Origin:

Old English spora, spura, of Germanic origin; related to Dutch spoor and German Sporn, also to †spurn.

Example Bank:

- · The research provided a spur for reform.
- a spur to action
- A few words from you might provide just the spur she needs.

Idioms: fon the spur of the moment = fwin your spurs

verb (-rr-)

- 1. to encourage sb to do sth or to encourage them to try harder to achieve sth
 - ~ sb/sth (on) to sth/to do sth Her difficult childhood spurred her on to succeed.
 - My trainer spurred me to keep up a pace of four miles an hour.
 - ~ sb/sth into sth I was spurred into action by the letter.
 - ~ sb/sth (on) The band has been spurred on by the success of their last single.
- 2. ~ sth to make sth happen faster or sooner
 - The agreement is essential to spurring economic growth around the world.
 - The fire, spurred by high temperatures and strong winds, had burnt more than 140 acres.
- 3. ~ sth to encourage a horse to go faster, especially by pushing the ↑spurs on your boots into its side
 - As he shouted his order he spurred the horse forward suddenly.

Verb forms:

verb forms
present simple
I / you / we /they	spur
	BrE /spa:(r)/
	NAmE /spa:r/
he / she /it	spurs
	BrE /spa:z/
	NAmE /spa:rz/
past simple, past participle	spurred
	BrE /spa:d/
	NAmE /spa:rd/
-ing form	spurring
	BrE /spa:rm/
	NAmE /spa:rin/

Word Origin:

Old English spora, spura, of Germanic origin; related to Dutch spoor and German Sporn, also to $\frac{1}{2}\text{spurn.}$

Example Bank:

- · An increase in the country's arsenal could spur an arms race in the region.
- My trainer spurred me to keep up a pace of six kilometres an hour.
- The agreement is essential to spurring economic growth.
- The band has been spurred on by the success of their last single
- The fire, spurred by high temperatures and strong winds, spread quickly.

spur

I. spur¹/sp3□$ sp3□lr BrE [™] AmE ' noun [countable]

[Language: Old English; Origin: spura]

- 1. on the spur of the moment suddenly, without any previous planning or thought:
 - We would often decide what to play on the spur of the moment. ⇒ ↑spur-of-the-moment
- 2. a fact or event that makes you try harder to do something

spur to

- It provided the spur to further research.
- The crowd's reaction only acted as a spur.
- 3. a sharp pointed object on the heel of a rider's boot which is used to encourage a horse to go faster
- 4. earn/win your spurs to show that you deserve to succeed because you have the right skills
- 5. a piece of high ground which sticks out from the side of a hill or mountain
- 6. a railway track or road that goes away from a main line or road
- AmE * II. spur² BrE verb (past tense and past participle spurred, present participle spurring)
 - 1. [transitive] (also spur somebody on) to encourage someone or make them want to do something:
 - The band were spurred on by the success of their last two singles.

spur somebody (on) to do something

His misfortunes spurred him to write.

spur somebody (on) to something

- the coach who spurred him on to Olympic success
- It was an article in the local newspaper which finally spurred him into action.
- 2. [transitive] to make an improvement or change happen faster SYN encourage:
 - Lower taxes would spur investment and help economic growth.
- 3. [intransitive and transitive] to encourage a horse to go faster, especially by pushing it with special points on the heels of your boots

spur

₁₂₅₀₀5800^{MCW}

150004012COCA

RANGE: 5k SPUR 4875

spur 1933 spurs 758 Freakuency Pack

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

spurring ³⁶⁰ spurred ¹⁸²⁴

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

₉₀₂21750⁹⁵¹ vvi

72723616832 nn1

14561539¹⁵⁰ vv0