

delirious[dɪˈlɪ(ə)rɪəs] a

1. находящийся в бреду
he is delirious from fever, he is in delirious fever - у него такой жар, что он бредит
2. 1) безумный, сумасшедший, исступлённый, горячечный delirious screech - неистовый скрежет
delirious ravings - исступлённый бред
- 2) без ума, вне себя
to be delirious with delight [despair] - быть вне себя от восторга [отчаяния]
3. бредовой, бессвязный (о речи)

delirious

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

de-li-ri-ous [delirious deliriously] BrE [dɪˈlɪrɪəs] ^u BrE [dɪˈlɪəriəs] ^u NAmE[dɪˈlɪrɪəs] ^u adjective

1. in an excited state and not able to think or speak clearly, usually because of fever
 - He became delirious and couldn't recognize people.
 - By the time she was rescued, she was delirious with cold and fear.
2. extremely excited and happy
 - The crowds were delirious with joy.

Derived Word ↑deliriously

Example Bank:

- My mind refused to clear and I felt delirious.
- She was delirious with joy.
- The crowd went delirious.
- He became delirious and couldn't recognize people.

delirious

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

de-lir-i-ous /dɪˈlɪrɪəs/ BrE ^u AmE ^u adjective

1. talking continuously in an excited or anxious way, especially because you are ill:
 - He suffered an attack of malaria and was delirious.

2. extremely excited or happy

delirious with

- He was delirious with joy.

—deliriously *adverbdelirious

Freakuency Pack

12500 10329^{MCW}15000 10552^{COCA}RANGE: 10k DELIRIOUS ⁵⁹³delirious ⁴⁷⁹deliriousness ⁰deliriously ¹¹⁴

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

436 32674⁴⁷⁹ jj