

sundial

['sʌndaɪəl] n
солнечные часы

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

sundial

sun·dial [sʌndiəl sundiəls] BrE ['sʌndaɪəl] NAme ['sʌndaɪəl] noun

sundial

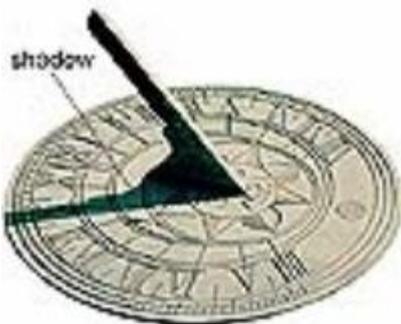

a device used outdoors, especially in the past, for telling the time when the sun is shining. A pointed piece of metal throws a shadow on a flat surface that is marked with the hours like a clock, and the shadow moves around as the sun moves across the sky.

sundial

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

sun·dial /'sʌndaɪəl/ BrE AmE noun [countable] an object used in the past for telling the time. The shadow of a pointed piece of metal shows the time and moves round as the sun moves.

sundial

Freakuency Pack

12500 11558^{MCW}

15000 14834^{COCA}

RANGE: 10k SUNDIAL 178

sundial 151

sundials 27

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

101 61427¹⁵¹ nn1