

visitor['vɪzɪtə] n

1. посетитель, гость
official visitor - лицо, прибывшее с официальным визитом
we have visitors - у нас гости
visitors to a museum - посетители музея
a visitor from Mars - пришелец с Марса
2. приезжий, временный житель (курорта, гостиницы и т. п.); приезжающий; турист, экскурсант summer visitors - дачники; курортники visitors to a hotel - проживающие в гостинице to take in visitors - сдавать комнаты приезжим /отдыхающим/
3. инспектор, ревизор; контролёр, обследователь
4. перелётная птица

visitor

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

vis·it·or [visitor visitors] BrE ['vɪzɪtə(r)] <sup>m</sup> NAmE ['vɪzɪtər] <sup>m</sup> noun ~ (to...)

a person who visits a person or place

- We've got visitors coming this weekend.
- Do you get many visitors?
- She's a frequent visitor to the US.
- The theme park attracts 2.5 million visitors a year.
- How can we attract more visitors to our website?

see also ↑health visitorWord Origin:late Middle English: from Anglo-Norman French visitour, from Old French visiter or Latin visitare 'go to see', frequentative of visare 'to view', from videre 'to see'.Example Bank:

- First-time visitors to Spain are often surprised by how late people eat.
- I could see he was expecting visitors.
- Pick up a free map of the town from the visitor centre.
- The baby's weight is monitored by the health visitor.
- The college only admits visitors in organized groups.
- The festival brings 5 000 visitors to the town every year.
- The front room was used mainly for entertaining visitors.
- The lack of facilities in the town may deter the casual visitor.
- The latest crime figures are likely to put off prospective visitors to the city.
- The museum gives visitors a glimpse of the composer's life.
- The town has much to interest the visitor.
- Visitors are invited to browse around the farm site.
- Visitors flocked to see the show.
- Visitors from Ireland will find much that reminds them of home.
- He introduced his companion, a visitor from the US.
- He is still in hospital and is not well enough to receive visitors.
- He was a frequent visitor to the house in Wimpole Street.
- I'm expecting visitors this evening.
- The castle is the main attraction for visitors.
- The family rarely had visitors.
- The hotel is popular with business visitors and tourists.
- The mild climate allows visitors to enjoy golf all year round.
- The palace is open to visitors from April to September.
- There has been a drop in visitor numbers.
- There was nowhere in the house for them to entertain visitors.
- They publish a guide to Europe for overseas visitors.
- Visitors flock to the town every summer.
- We've got visitors coming for the weekend.
- When I arrived home there was an unexpected visitor waiting for me.
- You can watch a film about the history of the site in the visitor centre.
- You've got a visitor!

visitor

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

vis·it·or S3 W2 /'vɪzɪtə, 'vɪzɪtə $ -ər/ BrE <sup>m</sup> AmE <sup>m</sup> noun [countable][Word Family: noun: ↑visit, ↑visitor, ↑visitation; verb: ↑visit, ↑revisit] someone who comes to visit a place or a person:

* Times Square attracts more than 30 million visitors annually.

visitor to

* Rina is a frequent visitor to the city.

visitor from

visitors from overseas

⇒ †health visitor

• • •

THESAURUS

- tourist someone who is visiting a place for pleasure on holiday: The hotel is very popular with tourists. | a major tourist destination
- traveller British English, traveler American English someone who travels somewhere: a weary traveller returning home after a long journey | The building's luxurious interior will appeal to business travellers. | The strike will affect air travellers. | Paul Theroux, the American traveller, once went from London to India by train.
- visitor someone who comes to visit a particular country, area, museum etc: Times Square attracts more than 30 million visitors annually.
- holiday-maker British English, vacationer American English someone who is on holiday somewhere: The beach was packed with holiday-makers. | 75 percent of Alamo's rentals are to vacationers.
- sightseer a tourist who is visiting a famous or interesting place: Crowds of sightseers come to London every year.
- backpacker someone who is travelling for pleasure, staying in cheap accommodation and carrying a †backpack: a cheap hotel which is used mainly by backpackers

visitor

Freakuency Pack

12500 1400<sup>MCW</sup>

15000 486<sup>COCA</sup>

RANGE: 1k VISIT <sup>99810</sup>

visit <sup>41217</sup>

visited <sup>13606</sup>

visiting <sup>10890</sup>

visitor <sup>6372</sup>

visitors <sup>16442</sup>

visits <sup>10030</sup>

visitation <sup>1253</sup>

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

<sup>4216</sup> 5833<sup>6372</sup> nn1