1. [hɔ:lt] n 1. запинание; запинка

he has a halt in his speech - он говорит запинаясь

- 2. арх. хромота
- 2. [hɔ:lt] a apx.
 - 1. хромой
 - 2. (the halt) в грам. знач. сущ. собир. хромые the halt and the blind - библ. хромые и слепые
- 3. [hɔ:lt] v
 - 1. колебаться

to halt between two opinions - колебаться между двумя мнениями

- 2. запинаться
- 3. быть неубедительным, шатким (об аргументе)
- 4. арх. хромать; идти нетвёрдым шагом

halt halt [halt halts halted halting] verb, noun BrE [holl] BrE [hplt] NAmE [ho | It

verb intransitive, transitive to stop; to make sb/sth stop

- · She walked towards him and then halted.
- 'Halt!' the Major ordered (= used as a command to soldiers) .
- ~ sb/sth The police were halting traffic on the parade route.
- The trial was halted after the first week.

see stop/halt sb in their tracks stop/halt/freeze in your tracks at track n

Verb forms:

present simple
E / γου / we /they	halt
	BrE /ho:8/
	BrE /holt/
	NAmE /ho:lt/
ho/she/It	halts
	BrE /ho:/bs/
	BrE /holts/
	NAmE /ho:lts/
past simple, past participle	halted
	BrE /ho:Rnf/
	BrE /hoRtd/
	NAmE /ho:ltsd/
-ing form	halting
	BrE /ho:Rvy/
	BrE /holtry/
	NAME /ho:ltm/

Word Origin:

late 16th cent.: originally in the phrase make halt, from German haltmachen, from halten 'to hold'.

Example Bank:

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

- A sudden shout made them halt in their tracks and look around.
- · All these ideas for expansion were abruptly halted by the outbreak of war.
- The development programme has been halted in its tracks by this intervention.
- The strike effectively halted production at the factory.
- · We are failing to halt the destruction of the rainforest.
- 'Halt!' the Major ordered.
- She criticized his failure to halt the slide in the government's unpopularity.

noun

- 1. singular an act of stopping the movement or progress of sb/sth
 - Work came to a halt when the machine broke down.
 - The thought brought her to an abrupt halt .
 - The car skidded to a halt.
 - Strikes have led to a halt in production.
 - They decided it was time to call a halt to the project (= stop it officially) .
- 2. countable (BrE) a small train station in the country that has a platform but no buildings

see bring sth to a grinding haltgrind to a haltcome to a grinding halt at fgrind

Word Origin:

late 16th cent.: originally in the phrase make halt, from German haltmachen, from halten 'to hold'.

Example Bank:

- Scientists have decided to call a halt to the tests.
- The bus came to an abrupt halt outside the school.
- The car skidded to a halt just inches from the river.
- The economy seems to be grinding to a halt.
- The plan suddenly came to a screeching halt.
- The protesters are calling for a halt to the export of live animals.
- The strike brought the capital city to a grinding halt.
- They have ordered a halt to local elections.
- · a halt in nuclear testing
- · enough jobs to put a halt to emigration
- The thought brought her to an abrupt halt.
- They decided it was time to call a halt to the project.

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En) halt

I. halt¹/hɔ□lt$ hv□lt BrE * AmE *

[Date: 1500-1600, Language: German]

1. [singular] a stop or pause:

Heavy snowfalls brought traffic to a halt (=made it stop moving).

The World Championship was brought to a temporary halt (=was stopped from continuing).

come/grind/screech etc to a halt (=stop moving or continuing)

- The whole peace process seems to have ground to a halt.
- The car skidded to a halt.
- The President has called for a halt to the wave of emigration.
- 2. call a halt (to something) to stop an activity from continuing:
 - I urge those responsible to call a halt to the violence.
- 3. [countable] British English a place in the countryside where a train stops to let passengers get off, but where there is no station

COLLOCATIONS

verbs

- bring something to a halt (=make something or someone stop moving) Paris was brought to a halt by striking transport
- something/somebody comes to a halt (=something or someone stops moving) In front of them, the truck gradually slowed down and came to a halt.
- something grinds to a halt (=something stops very slowly used for emphasis) Just ahead, he could see traffic grinding to a halt.
- something screeches/shudders/skids/jolts to a halt (=a vehicle stops very quickly and noisily used for emphasis) The car skidded to a halt and three men jumped out.
- something draws to a halt (=a vehicle slows down and stops) As the train drew to a halt, people started to get off.
- call for a halt to something (=publicly ask for something to stop) The government has called for a halt to the violence.
- order a halt to something (=officially say that something must stop) Judge Marquez ordered a halt to logging on Indian lands. - demand a halt to something (=firmly ask for something to stop) Irish farmers demanded a halt to imports of British cattle.
- put a halt to something (=stop something suddenly) The news put a halt to our celebrations.

adjectives

- an abrupt halt (-one that is sudden and unexpected) His career came to an abrupt halt when he was seriously injured in a road accident.
- a sudden halt My happiness was brought to a sudden halt by the death of my father.

- a premature halt (=one that is sooner than expected) Bad weather brought the game to a premature halt.
- a temporary halt The game was brought to a temporary halt when the floodlights failed.
- an immediate halt The government called for an immediate halt to the fighting.
- a complete halt Wendy had slowed down, almost to a complete halt.
- a grinding halt (=one that happens slowly used for emphasis) One accident can bring the whole road system to a grinding
- a shuddering halt (=one in which a vehicle shakes noisily as it stops moving) He slammed his foot on the brake pedal, bringing the truck to a shuddering halt.
- II. halt 2 BrE * AmE * verb
 - 1. [transitive] to prevent someone or something from continuing used especially in news reports SYN stop:
 - The government has failed to halt economic decline.
 - Safety concerns have led them to halt work on the dam.

REGISTER

Halt is mainly used in journalism. In everyday English, people usually say stop:

- They had to stop the building work.
- 2. [intransitive] to stop moving:

The parade halted by a busy corner.

- 3. halt! used as a military order to tell someone to stop moving or soldiers to stop marching:
 - Company halt!
 - Halt! Who goes there?

Freakuency Pack halt

₁₂₅₀₀4358MCW 150003053COCA RANGE: 4k HALT 8206 halt 4798 halted 1996 halting 945 haltingly 216 halts 251 COCA 500k Unlemmatized

2437 10560²⁸⁵⁷ nn1 ₁₄₆₆15440¹⁶²⁶ vvi ₂₈₂41892³⁰⁹ vv0 ₆347502⁶ nnu