

recollectionI [ˌrekəˈleɪʃ(ə)n] *n*1. память, воспоминание

past recollection - давно забытый

within my recollection - на моей памяти

it is outside my recollection - я этого не припоминаю

I have some recollection of it - я это припоминаю

it is in my recollection (that ...) - помнится (что ...)

to the best of my recollection - насколько мне помнится; если память мне не изменяет to bring smth. to one's recollection - напомнить /оживить в памяти/ что-л.

events too trivial for recollection - мелкие события, о которых и вспоминать не стоит

2. pl воспоминания

recollections of youth [of childhood] - воспоминания молодости [детства]

II

[ˌrekəˈleɪʃ(ə)n] *n*1. сосредоточенность (мысли); раздумье2. собранность, присутствие духа; хладнокровие*recollection

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

rec·ol·lec·tion [recollection recollections] BrE [ˌrekəˈleɪʃn] n NAmE[ˌrekəˈleɪʃn] n noun (formal)1. uncountable the ability to remember sth; the act of remembering sthSyn: ↑memory

• ~ (of doing sth) I have no recollection of meeting her before.

• ~ (of sth) My recollection of events differs from his.

• To the best of my recollection (= if I remember correctly) I was not present at that meeting.2. countable a thing that you remember from the pastSyn: ↑memory• to have a clear/vivid/dim/vague recollection of sth

• his early recollections of his father

Word Origin:late 16th cent. (denoting the action of gathering things together again): from French or medieval Latin recollectio(n-), from the verb recolligere 'gather again', from re- 'back' + colligere 'collect'.Example Bank:

- He smiled fondly at the recollection.
- I have absolutely no recollection of the incident.
- I have only a vague recollection of sunshine and sand.
- It was great to meet with old friends and share recollections.
- She smiled faintly in recollection of all the fun times they'd had together.
- She stared at him in sudden recollection.
- The novel is based on recollections of his childhood in Shanghai.
- The place brought back painful recollections.
- To the best of my recollection, he was not there that day.
- recollections from Eliot's own life
- To the best of my recollection I was not present at that meeting.

recollection

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

rec·ol·lec·tion /ˌrekəˈleɪʃən/ BrE AmE noun formal1. [countable] something from the past that you remember:

My earliest recollections are of my mother bending over my cot.

2. [uncountable] an act of remembering somethinghave no recollection (of something) (=not remember)

I have no recollection of how I found my way there in the dark.

to (the best of) my recollection (=used when you are unsure if you remember correctly)

To the best of my recollection, she drives a Mercedes.

Noone, to my recollection, gave a second thought to the risks involved.

recollection

Freakuency Pack

12500 4910<sup>MCW</sup>15000 5315<sup>COCA</sup>RANGE: 4k RECOLLECT 2761

recollect 241

recollects 40

recollected 133

recollecting 74

recollection 1461

