

tangled['tæŋg(ə)ld] a

1) запутанный, спутанный

tangled knot - запутанный узел

tangled hair - спутанные волосы

2) сложный, запутанный

tangled affair - запутанное дело

tangled web of intrigue - сложная паутина интриги

tangled

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

tan·gled ['tæŋɡld] BrE ['tæŋɡld] AmE ['tæŋɡld] *adjective1. twisted together in an untidy way

• tangled hair/bed clothes

2. complicated, and not easy to understand

• tangled financial affairs

Example Bank:

- My hair had got all tangled.
- My legs got hopelessly tangled in the rope.
- Your hair looks a bit tangled.
- Diplomacy can be such a tangled web.
- He spent the next few days wrestling with very tangled emotions.
- Her hair was a tangled mass of damp curls.
- The series involves the tangled relationships of two London families.
- They had to fight their way through the tangled undergrowth.
- Three people were cut from the tangled wreckage of the train.

tangled

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

tan·gled /'tæŋɡəld/ BrE AmE (also ,tangled 'up) *adjective1. twisted together in an untidy mass:

• Your bedclothes are all tangled up.

• He had hair like tangled string.

2. complicated or not easy to understand:• the tangled web of local politics

• tangled emotions

tangled

Freakuency Pack

12500 4966^{MCW}15000 3354^{COCA}RANGE: 4k TANGLE 6955

tangle 1612

tangles 452

entangle 95

entangles 16

entangled 848

entangling 82

entanglement 411

entanglements 267

tangled 2609

tangling 160

untangle 292

untangled 111

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

1536 14778¹⁷³⁸ *jj*589 27746⁶³⁶ *vvv*229 48536²³⁵ vvd