

principally[ˈprɪnsɪplɪ] adv

главным образом, преимущественно

principally

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

prin·ci·pal·ly AW [ˈprɪnsɪpəlɪ] BrE [ˈprɪnsəplɪ] NAmE [ˈprɪnsəplɪ] adverb

mainly

Syn: †chiefly

- The book is aimed principally at beginners.
- No new power stations have been built, principally because of the cost.

Example Bank:

- Change management is principally concerned with people, their attitudes and skills.
- The farms are principally arable.
- The measures were principally designed to tackle the problem of homelessness.
- The sportswear range is aimed principally at the skiing market.
- The tax was very unpopular, principally because it hit the poor hardest.

principally

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

prin·ci·pally AC /ˈprɪnsəplɪ, ˈprɪnsɪplɪ/ BrE AmE adverb

mainly:

- The money is principally invested in stocks and shares.
- He was principally a landscape painter.
- We met principally to discuss the future of the school.

principally

Freakuency Pack

12500 6270<sup>MCW</sup>15000 1797<sup>COCA</sup>RANGE: 3k PRINCIPAL 21373

principal 16380

principally 1457

principals 3536

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

1255 16586<sup>1457</sup> rr