

- trout
- [traʊt] n (pl без измен.) зоол.
форель (Salmo gen.)
speckled trout - пятнистая форель
 - [traʊt] v
ловить форель

trout
trout [traʊt traʊts] BrE [traʊt] ^m NAmE [traʊt] ^m noun

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

- countable, uncountable (pl. trout) a common [↑]freshwater fish that is used for food. There are several types of trout
 - rainbow trout
 - trout fishing
 - Shall we have trout for dinner?
- countable, usually singular (usually old trout) (informal, disapproving) a bad-tempered or annoying old woman

Word Origin:

late Old English truht, from late Latin tructa, based on Greek trōgein 'gnaw'.

Example Bank:

- The trout spawn in late summer or autumn.
- the collapse of sea trout stocks

trout
trout /traʊt/ BrE ^m AmE ^m noun

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

[Date: 1000-1100; Language: Late Latin; Origin: tructa type of fish with sharp teeth, from Greek, from trogein 'to bite']

- (plural trout) [uncountable and countable] a common river-fish, often used for food, or the flesh of this fish
- old trout British English spoken an unpleasant or annoying old person, especially a woman

trout 12500 6757^{MCW}
15000 3860^{COCA}
RANGE: 6k TROUT ⁵³⁵⁰
trout ⁵³³³
trouts ¹⁷
COCA 500k Unlemmatized
¹⁶⁷⁶ 6769⁵²⁷⁷ nn
²² 103143⁵⁶ np1

Freakuency Pack