

disruptive[disˈrʌptɪv] a

1. подрывающий, разрушительный
he is a disruptive influence in the class - он пользуется дурным влиянием в классе
2. подрывной
3. слец. бризантный дробящий
disruptive explosives - бризантные взрывчатые вещества
4. эл. пробивной

disruptive

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

dis-rup-tive [disruptive] BrE [disˈrʌptɪv] <sup>ˈ</sup> NAmE [dɪsˈrʌptɪv] <sup>ˈ</sup> adjective

causing problems, noise, etc. so that sth cannot continue normally

- She had a disruptive influence on the rest of the class.

Example Bank:

- a highly disruptive group of students
- children with highly disruptive behaviour
- potentially disruptive elements in society
- He warned that her presence was potentially disruptive.
- Library staff are trained to deal with disruptive children.
- She was a disruptive influence on the rest of the class.
- The company has managed to avoid the disruptive effects of industrial action.
- Working such long hours can be extremely disruptive to home life.

disruptive

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

disrup-tive /dɪsˈrʌptɪv/ BrE <sup>ˈ</sup> AmE <sup>ˈ</sup> adjective

causing problems and preventing something from continuing in its usual way

disruptive to

- ˈ Night work can be very disruptive to home life.
- ˈ Mike's parents thought I was a disruptive influence (=a person who causes disruption).
- ˈ ways to handle disruptive pupils

—disruptively *adverbdisruptive

Freakuency Pack

12500 9306<sup>MCW</sup>15000 5852<sup>COCA</sup>RANGE: 8k DISRUPTIVE 2284

disruptive 2276

disruptively 8

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

1377 12395<sup>2276</sup> jj